REX HITCHCOCK
JOINS FORCES
OF RED CROSS

That Rex Hitchcock of Honolulu, graduate of Harvard University and prominent in college athletics in the East, has joined the Red Cross corps and probably now is in active service at the front, is the information which has been received here by friends of the Cambridge football star. It is stated that Hitchcock, in company with F. L. Barron, '13, former president of the Harvard Lampoon, recently left Cambridge for New York City with the intention of joining the Red Cross.

As Harvard is planning to send automobile ambulances to Europe for use by the Red Cross, it is possible that Hitchcock may have been chosen to either drive or accompany one of these. Hitchcock is the son of H. R. Hitchcock of Molokai. He received his early education at Punahou and was prominent in the athletics of that institution.

RED CROSS STAMP SALE
ON OAHU REACHES $3586

The first official announcement to be made by the Anti-Tuberculosis League regarding the sale on Oahu of Red Cross Christmas seals shows that $3586 was realized from the local campaign. The island was divided into districts, each district being canvassed by a corps of women under the direction of Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham and a special committee. The League has issued the following statement:

"The Anti-Tuberculosis League takes this means of thanking Mrs. W. F. Dillingham, the chairman of the district and stations, as well as all others who helped in the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals. To the press of Honolulu is also due the thanks of the league for the generous way in which it has aided the work of the ladies. There are still a few stations that have not yet sent in their complete returns. The amount realized is $3586."

INTERNEED GERMANS ARE GUESTS OF LOCAL COLONY

Honolulu's Germany residents were hosts to the war-bound naval seamen and merchant marine-men of interned German vessels at a monster entertainment and Christmas celebration held in the Phoenix lodge rooms at Fort and Beretania streets last night. The entire crew of the Geier, interned for the remainder of the war, as well as the crews of German merchant marines taking refuge in this harbor, were feasted on Honolulu's best. Every sailor present was awarded a remembrance of Honolulu and Christmas, each offering bearing the Hawaiian coat-of-arms.

The big hall was decorated for the occasion, the stars and stripes being entwined with the German double-eagle and the old Hawaiian monarchy flag. Georg Rodiek, the local German consul, made a short address and opened the celebration. He proposed a toast to the Kaiser, which was responded to and followed by the giving of three rousing cheers for the emperor of Germany.

Captain Rashoff of the Geier responded and thanked the Honolulu Germans for their hospitality in assembling there to entertain the fighting men and civilian sailors of German boats. Three cheers for the Honolulu Germans were then given. Rev. Engelhardt, of the German Lutheran church, delivered a short eulogy to the German marine.

The Royal Hawaiian band played German Christmas carols and medleys while presents were distributed to the sailors. The presents given all bore the Hawaiian coat-of-arms and in addition the sailors were given either a Honolulu pennant or a Hawaiian flag. National airs of Germany were sung.

HORNER DIFFERS
WITH HOLLINGER
ON PAVEMENTS

Firmly convinced that sheet-asphalt is the only kind of pavement that will prove thoroughly satisfactory in Honolulu, Supervisor-elect Robert Horner returned to Honolulu last night after a two months' tour of California. Soon after his election Horner and Supervisor-elect Ben Hollinger left for California to study municipal affairs in that state. Hollinger returned a week ago firmly convinced that bitulithic pavement is the best for Honolulu streets. Although their ideas of pavement vary, both declare themselves strongly in favor of hard-surface roads.

Horner stated that he inspected the street work in nearly all of the large California cities and his selection was made because of the success of asphalt paving in Oakland. Asphalt has not been tried out in Honolulu, while bitulithic paving has. Horner favors sheet asphalt with a six-inch concrete foundation.

HIGHER STANDARD
IS HIS DESIRE
AT KAMEHAMEHA

Charles King, former school inspector and an alumnus of Kamehameha schools, said in a recent alumni banquet talk that the standard of the schools should be raised. "I have no criticism to make of the present regime, for Principal Webster has just come, but I hope the standard will be raised so that graduates will rank at least with those of Punahou and McKinley high school," reiterated King this morning.

"The alumni feel that though a splendid plant has been furnished, the pupils are not graduated at a high enough standard, and their experience is that when they come in competition with Punahou and McKinley high and other graduates in business or other life, they cannot compete on equal terms. In former days Kamehameha's standard was higher than it is today."

King urges that the requisites for graduation be made higher, the courses lengthened and more efficiency be introduced in the teaching system.
